

THIRD PERSON

When you write in third person, you are writing about other people or characters without mentioning yourself.

He - He owns a blue car.

Her/she - She likes to go for her daily run every afternoon.

Him/his - His dad gave him money for dinner.

They - They came to say goodbye.

